

Bonjour et bienvenue!

If you read this, it is probably because you are interested in my French Language and Culture weeks in France. We have met, or you have heard about my approach to language learning. By creating an environment of good French life and authentic experience, I help the participants to develop their French personality... and speaking abilities! We laugh a lot and learn tremendously. Look at the pictures on my site: they will speak more than words.

I offer three levels: for the almost beginners ('En route!'), for those who are already able to speak, even with a lot of errors ('Vivez la France!') and for those who already speak fairly well French and would like to do something with it ('Le Français profond). Unless you speak Dutch, I wouldn't advise to participate to 'En route!', because most of the explanations are in Dutch and tailored for Dutch learners. But in the two other levels, we speak French all the time, so Dutch is not needed, even if it would be comfortable.

Do not hesitate to contact me.

Bonne journée,

Sylvain
